Miss Ella Sevier And Rev. W. H. Jones Wed

Large Crowd Assembles Early At St. Paul Chapel And Witnessed Impressive Ceremony.

(By Edward E. Clay)

One of the most notable weddings of the year took place Sunday evening at the St. Paul Chapel, 12th and Locust. Miss Ella Sevier, 20, of 20th and Locust Avenue, became the bride of the Rev. Mr. W. H. Jones, 45, son of the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Jones of Fall River, Mass.

The bride's parents were the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. William St. Paul. The Rev. Mr. William Park served Dr. Jones as best man and the groomsmen included Frank Wilson and Dr. Edward Grant.

The bride's parents, Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thomas, as ring bearers, were delighted in their respective parts. The Minister, Rev. Mr. May Mitchell, and William and May Burleson acted as ribbon bearers. The ushers were J. L. Wingate and eight of their friends.

Mrs. Anna K. Smith sang "Promise Me" before the ceremony and immediately after Miss George "Harrower" sang "I'm Gonna Be a Minnie." The bride, dressed in a white gown of white organdy, and carrying white varnishes, rendered the bridal charms from the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Beckett of the organ.

The ceremony was performed by Bishop H. H. Headley of the First Baptist Church, Rev. Mr. C. A. Williams, C. A. Williams, at 6:30 p.m. The couple stood under an arch of maidenhair trees, surrounded by a bank of palms, which were given to the bride by the Rev. Mr. E. Stevens for his concluding words and a speech at the organ.

THE HISTORY OF
REV. J. K. PARKER'S
PASTORAL WORKAt the First Street
list Church Last Week.

The sixteenth anniversary of Rev. J. K. Parker, was celebrated last week at which time the church history was read and the church clock struck.

Master of Ceremonies, Pastor, officers, "Members and Friends." It gives me pleasure at this time to read the history of the First Street Baptist Church, sixteenth anniversary of our beloved pastor, Rev. J. K. Parker. I will begin with the condition of the church when I joined it, having had it a way.

When Rev. Parker took charge and up to the present time.

I united with the church November 11, 1890 which was my first home at that time.

When we moved to 14th and One Avenue known as the Boards, at which time Sister George Harris was the pastor, Rev. Parker was appointed assistant pastor in 1891. The clock died and was replaced.

I received the roll book with names of 200 members.

Rev. H. C. Clegg, T. G. Trotter, Wm. Johnson, Wm. Chapman, Alon Crawford, Wm. H. Herring, Daniel Blane, Mother Martha Sheek, Jessie Hall, E. Virgin, Shirley White, Mrs. B. B. Johnson.

In 1892 we arranged to purchase the property of 23rd and Dickson Sts. the price being $1,000.00. We were to move from 14th and One to 23rd and Dickson 14th and Lucas, the Old St. Paul Chapel, now enior house, in 1897. In 1901 we moved to 12th and Locust in the old Old Wesley Chapel, Wash street between 10th and 11th street, where Rev. J. K. Parker in 1902 joined us. In 1903 we moved to 12th and Locust.

Biography of Rev. J. K. Parker.

It was a beautiful day, the 12th of December, 1879, that the good people of the First Street Baptist Church, as a result of their labors, dedicated their 48th anniversary. Aside by an 11th street church.

The church was dedicated in 1879.

Some of the officers, pastor, deacons, trustees were held at the home of the late William and Laura Coker, 240 Whitter and North Market Streets.

The birds were gaily and merrily seen in the air and father and mother prayed that God would "shape the destiny of this little flock" and when the day was over, the pastor, Rev. J. K. Parker, with his wife and son, Rev. J. K. Parker, Jr., went to the west hill, there across Linn, the queen of night, she was laying over the western country, home to the birds.

Under the warm rays of a southern sun, he grew to be a strong, healthy lad and attended the public schools.

At the age of 16 he reached maturity and went to Memphis, Tenn., where he lived for a number of years.

He studied his people from the scriptures, was a good student, and with the assistance of the Almighty God, he has educated many of his people from vice, and the world over.
